Bagley, Reed Become Certified Public Accountants

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (JULY 12, 2007) – Steve Bagley and Nick Reed, both staff accountants at Butler & Burke, LLP, have successfully completed the licensure exam to become licensed Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) in North Carolina. Butler & Burke is a full-service public accounting firm based in Winston-Salem.

A Charlotte native, Bagley joined Butler & Burke in 2005. Earlier in his career, Bagley served as a staff accountant at North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro, North Carolina. He received the B.S. degree in accounting from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in May, 2005 and the B.S. degree in business management from North Carolina State University in 2001.

A native of College Park, Georgia, Reed was a member of the senior audit staff at Gifford, Hillegass & Ingwersen, LLP, (GH&I) in Atlanta prior to joining Butler & Burke in 2006. Reed received the B.A. degree in business administration from Rhodes College in Memphis, where he was a member of the Honor Society, in 2002. He received the Masters of Accountancy degree in accounting from Rhodes College in 2003.

Butler & Burke is located at 100 Club Oaks Court, Suite A, in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Founded in 1976, Butler & Burke has professional expertise in financial reporting and assurance services, tax compliance, tax planning, retirement and education planning and business consulting.
